1. About the Project

According to the Development Project Proposal (DPP) of the ‘Important Rural Infrastructure Development Project on Priority Basis-2 (IRIDP-2)’, approved by ECNEC on 07 July 2015, the project is a major infrastructure development initiative covering 284 constituencies across 64 districts within the country's eight divisions. The project encompasses the development of 63 markets, construction of 40 boat landing ghats, improvement of 464.09 kilometers of Upazila roads, 1,382.05 kilometers of Union roads, and 7,415.23 kilometers of village roads. The project was implemented by the Local Government Engineering Department (LGED). It commenced on 1 July 2015 and was completed on 30 June 2021. The total implementation cost of the project, which has been identified as the Sukuk asset, amounted to BDT 5,947.41 crore. The Originator has agreed to transfer the beneficial ownership of the definite assets constructed and developed under the IRIDP-2 Project (as listed in Annexure-1) to the Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) for a consideration of BDT 5,500.00 (five thousand five hundred) crore for the purpose of Sukuk issuance.

2. Objectives of the Project

- a) Improve overall the rural transport network to facilitate production and marketing of agricultural and non- agricultural product.
- b) Connect the remote area with growth center/market center/important places of rural Bangladesh to next higher road networks.
- c) Create both short-term and long-term employment opportunities through construction of rural infrastructures.

3. Socio-Economic Impacts of the Project

The implementation of the Important Rural Infrastructure Development Project on Priority Basis (IRIDP-2) has generated significant socio-economic benefits in rural areas. The project has improved the rural transport network and strengthened linkages with the existing transportation system without causing negative impacts on other projects. Improved road communication and better marketing facilities have directly and indirectly contributed to increased agricultural production and rural productivity. The project has created direct short-term and seasonal employment opportunities through construction activities, while indirect employment has expanded in agriculture and other commercial sectors, resulting in increased income levels and poverty alleviation among the rural poor.

Improved accessibility has enabled rural people to have easier access to healthcare facilities, contributing to decreased child and maternal mortality rates and enhanced life expectancy. The engagement of landless destitute women in road maintenance and roadside tree plantation activities has generated long-term employment opportunities and promoted women's empowerment. Furthermore, roadside tree plantation programs and appropriate drainage provisions have supported the maintenance of ecological balance, while the participation of local people and representatives in project implementation has strengthened institutional capacity and fostered a sense of ownership of the developed infrastructure.
